For centuries, people have used the energy of rivers by controlling water flow. Hydropower is the world's biggest source of renewable energy. China, Brazil, Canada, the U.S., and Russia are the largest hydropower producers. Hydropower is a clean energy source, but it also has several drawbacks, too. Large dams* can cause problems for the animals and plants around them. Dams may destroy their natural homes. Also, when little rain or snow falls, there will be little water in rivers. So, it will be difficult or impossible to produce electricity from river waters. Dams are not the only way to use water for power. The tides and waves in seas or oceans can also be used. Scientists are trying hard to use more clean energy sources like hydropower in the future. This way many countries can meet the needs of their people. Life will be easier and cleaner for them.

There are several types of dictionaries. Dictionaries are great help when students are learning a foreign or second language. There are dictionaries which translate words into other languages. Most students start with a bilingual dictionary, which has words in English translated into their own mother tongue. Another type of dictionary is a monolingual dictionary, which is entirely in one language. A bilingual dictionary is easier than a monolingual one, but teachers suggest monolingual dictionaries.

Another way to consider about dictionaries is their format. For older people, dictionary is a book in paper format. But, electronic dictionaries like online dictionaries and Apps on smart phones are used more than paper dictionaries. You can look up words very quickly. Sometimes, they may not contain the same level of detail as a paper dictionary.

Using dictionaries greatly help you in learning new vocabulary and expressions. However, learners have to develop their skills in using different types of paper and electronic dictionaries.

۲	متن زير را بخوانيد و به سوالات آن پاسخ دهيد. Online friendships are quite easy, but in the real-world things are much more difficult. There are no rules about friendship. There are no guidelines about how to make friends, how to keep friendships going, and how to finish friendships if we want to move on. People also have very different opinions about friendship: some people would die for their friends and value them more than family. Others feel that friends are temporary, only there to help each other until they are no longer needed. If people with such different views become friends, this can lead to problems. 45.
