It is very important for us to respect our teachers. We should note that teachers were not always teachers like us. They have experienced school time like us. We know that teachers want to help students to share with us: their life experiences, their failures, their successes and many more. When we respect ourselves. We can show our respect to our teachers by paying attention during lessons and remembering that a good student is always prepared for class.

We all have met many dedicated teachers that go far beyond their duties and become a model for the students. When we respect them and respect them, they feel honored.

When we study well, we are actually appreciating them for their love and attempt.

Many countries now think that cars that burn fossil fuels should be replaced by electric cars. Electric cars use electricity to power the engine, so they don't pollute the air. They use electricity stored on the car in batteries.

Sometimes, 12 or 24 batteries, or more, are needed to power the car. Just like a remotecontrolled car, an electric motor that turns the wheels and a battery to run the motor.

Electricity, the same energy that lights your lamps and runs your TV, is stored in batteries on an electric car, like the batteries you find in flashlights or in regular gasoline cars.

To get the battery ready to roll, you have to charge it. This process isn't much different from the way you charge the devices you carry around every day: your cell phone, MP3 player, or digital camera. The difference is that the car is a bigger gadget that carries you around instead.

The electric car is usually plugged in at night. The car can be plugged into a special charging unit or a special outlet. Some cars can be plugged right into a regular electrical wall outlet. Others need a larger outlet, like the kind used for vacuum cleaner plugs into.

The engineers are trying to make better batteries that hold more energy and last longer. To overcome the limitations of electric cars, hybrid cars are also available. Hybrid cars combine the benefits of gasoline engines and electric engines designed to meet different goals, such as better fuel economy or more power. True / False

3/5	The best way to learn how to use your particular dictionary effectively is to read its introductory section where you'll find out how the entries are arranged. The introductory section of your dictionary will explain important information such as the abbreviations and pronunciation symbols used throughout the entries. Introductions to dictionaries explain things like how entries are arranged (they typically give the word, and the variations of the word; what part of speech the word is; pronunciation of the word; definition, etc.) Reading the introduction will give you a handle on how to find words and how to use information that you do find. There may also be information on the pronunciation of words with different spellings; this can be helpful if you have only heard a word and you're not sure of its spelling. For example, if you hear "not", it might also be "knot" but the "k" is silent, and this list can help you with suggestions. 46.
